Doctoral Fellowship: Ph.D. in Occupation and Rehabilitation Science

A highly qualified candidate is being sought for a funded Ph.D. degree opportunity within the Department of Occupational Therapy at Colorado State University.

The New Start for Student Veterans program will serve as the context for this dynamic learning and career development opportunity. New Start provides educational and community-based supports for post-9/11 veterans with significant disabilities seeking a college degree at Colorado State University. A comprehensive research and development program has been initiated which integrates evidence-based intervention programs fostering resilience and enhanced academic and participation outcomes for student veterans. Doctoral training will be supported by the CSU Department of Occupational Therapy, a graduate education program ranked #6 nationally by US News and World Reports.

Occupation and Rehabilitation Science focuses on the interdisciplinary study of human performance and participation in everyday occupations and contexts across the lifespan. In offering a Ph.D. in Occupation and Rehabilitation Science, the Department of Occupational Therapy faculty intend to integrate occupational science and rehabilitation science: two highly synergistic academic areas.

CONTACT INFORMATION
Please direct inquiries to Dr. Aaron M. Eakman:
Aaron.Eakman@colostate.edu
http://www.ccp.colostate.edu/programs/new_start.aspx

For more information, including admissions requirements, visit: www.ot.chhs.colostate.edu